The AFC Asian Cup 2015 is one of the most exciting sporting events to come to Australia. It is the largest football tournament in the Asia Pacific region and the Asian Cup is hotly contested by some of the best teams and players in the world.

Featuring Asia’s top 16 teams, the AFC Asian Cup will start from 9 January 2015 with the final to be held in Sydney on 31 January. This much anticipated competition promises to be a once-in-a-lifetime experience for football and sport fans alike. Sydney and Newcastle will host six Group Stage matches and five finals including the prestigious final at Stadium Australia.

Expect action packed matches as reigning champions Japan compete against other countries such as Australia, Iran, Palestine, Oman and Qatar in both Sydney and Newcastle. There has never been a better time or opportunity to enjoy world-class football.

Ticket packages make it a great day out for families, and with very affordable prices starting from just $5 for kids, fans will want to attend several matches. This is an exciting chance for Australian football fans to experience the ‘world game’ right in their own backyard. Share all the excitement, colour and cheering to create life-long memories by being part of history.
As the all-time top scorer for the Socceroos, and recent FIFA World Cup team captain, Tim Cahill is excited to be part of the AFC Asian Cup and can’t wait to lead the Socceroos charge!

“Having the Asian Cup in Australia for the first time is something for our country to be really proud of. We will have the best teams from all over Asia right here in our own backyard. And we will have a chance to lift the silverware. If we can manage it, it will be the biggest prize Australia has won. We want to see the stadiums full and share something special with our fans. Make sure we can hear you because your support means everything to us.”

- TIM CAHILL, Socceroo
THINGS TO DO IN SYDNEY

SYDNEY OLYMPIC PARK
You’ll find plenty of things to do around Sydney Olympic Park, home to Stadium Australia.

One of Sydney’s most popular recreational areas and picnic spots, the park has over 35km of bike trails, walking paths and scenic boardwalks taking you to beautiful parklands, rare saltmarshes, remnant woodlands, waterbird refuges and mangrove forests.

Featuring an incredible urban biodiversity with hundreds of species of plants, birds, frogs, bats, reptiles and fish. Explore the parklands on a Segway ride or join a fully-escorted tour for an exciting experience on-road and off-road. Take the award-winning Ring Walk around the Brickpit ‘pond’, from the soaring circular walkway you get a bird’s-eye view of the resident green and golden bell frog habitat.

Plan to extend your trip to Sydney to enjoy several Asian Cup matches and all the experiences this great harbour city has to offer. Whether its in-between games or some post match relaxation, there is always something to see and do in Sydney.

- Get your heart pumping and enjoy the spectacular view from on top of the Sydney Harbour Bridge on a BridgeClimb tour
- Catch all the action (and a cool drink) at one of Sydney’s many sports bars scattered around the city – try 24/7 Sports Bar located at The Star in Pyrmont, which features three mega screens and more than 50 LCD TVs
- Experience the harbour in a whole new way with an adrenalin fuelled jet boat ride
- Sample some of Sydney’s unique craft beers, at places like the Rock’n’Roll inspired Young Henrys Newtown Brewery
- Go horse riding through Centennial Park, one of only a few urban parks with riding facilities in the world
- Take the family to the Museum of Contemporary Art Australia (MCA), Art Gallery of NSW, Australian Museum and Powerhouse Museum, to see Sydney exclusive exhibitions
- Join the Australia Day celebrations, Sydney Festival and many other attractions around Sydney
NEWCASTLE

Located just two hours north of Sydney, Newcastle will play host to four matches, including a semi-final and the third and fourth playoff. It’ll also be the stage for the first appearance of the reigning Asian Cup champions, Japan. Newcastle was voted one of the top 10 cities in the world by Lonely Planet’s Best in Travel and has many attractions, diverse dining experiences and is located on the doorstep to the Hunter Valley, Australia’s premier and award winning wine region.

TOP TIPS

- Dune quad biking - Ride the ultimate fun machine, over the largest moving sand mass in the southern hemisphere, Stockton Sand Dunes
- TreeTop Adventure Park - Try one of 96 challenges that include flying foxes, suspension bridges and activities above the forest floor
- Canoe through the Hunter Wetlands - Go for a paddle or enjoy other activities including walking trails and guided tours, segway tours and bird watching
- Newcastle Museum - Discover the story of this city in all its beauty, grit, colour and life
- Take a swim in the ocean - Join the locals for a dip in Newcastle Ocean Baths, famous for its art deco heritage façade and spectacular views
- Ride the waves at Nobbys Beach - Follow the Bathers Way coastal walk before your dip to check out some amazing scenery
- Nobbys Head Lighthouse - Discover Newcastle’s past on a walk from Fort Scratchley to this historic site overlooking the Hunter River estuary
- Sip cocktails on the harbour - Head to the Honeysuckle Boardwalk for sophisticated dining and opulent bars with water views
- Eat out in Cooks Hill - A lively pub and bar scene can be found in Newcastle’s inner city, or for great coffee and popular cafes try Darby Street.

FOOD & WINE

Newcastle’s exciting food scene and eclectic eat streets offers a huge variety of food options. Located less than one hours drive from the Hunter Valley, Newcastle is one of NSW’s best regional hotspots for good food and wine.

You’ll find hatted restaurants, historic pubs, waterside eateries, a buzzing café scene and mouth-watering ethnic fare sprinkled throughout the city’s four dining neighbourhoods.

Try Honeysuckle Boardwalk on the harbour for fine dining and waterside bars; the many cafes and restaurants along hip Darby Street or at The Junction, or Beaumont Street in Hamilton for great Italian and Greek food.

If it’s a relaxing drink or a post-game celebration venue you’re after, head to Coal & Cedar, an underground speakeasy located behind an unmarked library door; Bar Petite has a rustic outdoor courtyard, and waterside Honeysuckle Hotel features a rum bar, modern pub food and great views. The Terrace Bar is famous for its craft beers and a fairy-lit terrace, or for something with a historical flare, try Le Passe Temps – a 1920’s French lounge bar located in a historic bank building.

SYDNEY CELEBRATES

The 150-year-old Sydney Cricket Ground (SCG) was the first ground in Australia to host a cricket match under lights – and this famous venue will host five matches in the upcoming ICC Cricket World Cup.

South Africa and the West Indies will kick off proceedings in style, followed shortly after by the hugely anticipated match between Australia and Sri Lanka – the day after Sydney’s world famous Mardi Gras parade. England will then take on Afghanistan, before Sydney really comes alive to host both a quarter-final and semi-final. Should Australia qualify for a semi-final berth, the SCG will be the setting where they will enjoy their home ground advantage.

Sydney knows how to celebrate, so bring your family and friends to share in the excitement of this global event. Special fan zones and activities are planned in Sydney and across New South Wales in the lead up to and during the ICC Cricket World Cup (from late 2014 up to and including the match days during March 2015). Check the relevant website and programs for further details.

STRICTLY BALLROOM

Many may not know that Baz Luhrmann’s Strictly Ballroom was first released to the stage as a student work in 1984, only to then launch as a film a few years later.

Now, it revisits its origins with its international premiere as a big budget musical, complete with comic elements, eye-catching design and sequin overload (costumes are courtesy of Baz’s wife and costume design partner Catherine Martin). Best of all though, is the chance to belt out the film’s feel-good numbers, including ‘Love is in the Air’ and ‘Time After Time’.

DIRTY DANCING – THE CLASSIC STORY ON STAGE

Nobody puts Baby in the corner! Following its 2004 sell-out world premiere in Sydney, and after wowing critics and fans around the globe for a decade, Dirty Dancing will return to the harbour city for a strictly limited season.

Under the helm of famed Australian theatre producer John Frost, and set in the Summer of ’63, this stage phenomenon breathes new life into the much-loved coming-of-age film classic, as it follows the forbidden holiday romance between sheltered teen Frances ‘Baby’ Houseman and her hunky dance instructor Johnny Castle.

Although starry-eyed Baby has a lot more to learn from Johnny than just the mambo, the cha-cha and the tango, the live stage production takes all those provocative dance routines you loved from the movie to new heights. Plus, you’ll be singing along with abandon to ‘Hungry Eyes’, ‘Do You Love Me’ and ‘Time of My Life’ as well as other hit songs from the 1987 film’s soundtrack.

2014 SYDNEY NEW YEAR’S EVE

Each year Sydney’s world-famous New Year’s Eve fireworks are eagerly anticipated across the globe.

They are one of the most spectacular fireworks displays to light up the night sky featuring the iconic Sydney Opera House and Harbour Bridge. There are plenty of activities on the day leading up to the countdown.

The entertainment starts early, with events such as the nail-biting flyover display, an Acknowledgement of Country Ceremony, stunning pylon projections and the Harbour of Light Parade. The family friendly fireworks kick-off at 9pm, with the dazzling finale saved for midnight. So plan your trip and pick your spot on the harbour foreshore to see what 2015 brings.

AUSTRALIA DAY

Everybody should attend Australia Day in Sydney at least once in their lifetime.

As the birthplace of our nation, Sydney celebrates like no other place in Australia. Starting at 7.30am with the WugulOra Ceremony and the raising of the Aboriginal and Australian flags, there is a full program of celebrations and activities in and around Sydney.

Whether you’re heading to the family-friendly Summer Playground in Hyde Park, or packing a picnic and staking your spot by the water, it’s a great day to celebrate. The Harbour Concert celebrates great Australian music, followed by more festivities in The Rocks and Darling Harbour, including the fabulous fireworks display to cap off the day.

Plan your trip to also enjoy the AFC Asian Cup 2015 semi-final at Stadium Australia or join the double celebration as India also celebrates their National Republic Day competing against Australia in the One Day International at the SCG.

FAMILY FUN

WET’N’WILD IN SYDNEY

With 40 fabulous slides and attractions, Wet’n’Wild Sydney brings a whole new level of fun to family entertainment in Summer.

Australia’s largest water park features a huge wave pool with a sandy beach and waves good enough to surf. It’s also home to the sensational 4-loop and 8-lane racer, and the world’s tallest Double SkyCoaster. Wet’n’Wild Junior is a dedicated zone featuring kid-friendly water slides including miniature versions of the larger thrill slides. It also has the southern hemisphere’s largest tipping bucket, a kid-sized river and interactive splash pads for total Summer fun.

Located right next door is the new Atura Hotel, the perfect place to chill out after a long day of fun. It’s also close to the Skyline Drive In at Blacktown where you can watch your favourite film from the comfort of your car or a Gold Grass deck chair. It’s not only the kids who’ll have fun at Sydney’s only drive-in cinema.

ADVENTURE IN THE CITY

Sydney is great for kids in Summer with plenty of activities and incredible attractions to experience.

Meet amazing animals from around the globe at Taronga Zoo, SEA LIFE Sydney Aquarium, Manly SEA LIFE Sanctuary and WILD LIFE Sydney Zoo, all an easy distance from the city centre.

Darling Harbour is a vibrant harbourside location packed with plenty of experiences for kids of all ages. You can take a ride on the historic carousel at Palm Grove or fly through the air on a flying fox in Darling Quarter. Have fun celebrity spotting at Madame Tussauds or stimulate the senses at the 9D Action Cinema where 3D films are accompanied by surround sound and dramatic effects. Top the day off with a show performed by Monkey Baa Theatre.

Visit the brand new Sky Zone in Alexandria, where you and the kids can jump around at Australia’s largest trampoline park, bounce off The Wall or hit up the Sky Slam.

CYCLING WITH KIDS

Cycling in Sydney is a great way to enjoy the city’s natural beauty and there are plenty of great places to enjoy an easy bike ride - by the beach, along the harbour foreshore, with a tour group or on your own.

In The Rocks you can join a Bonza Bike Tour, or hire a bike and explore the city at your own pace.

Centennial Park is an idyllic location for cycling, it’s popular with locals and visitors alike keen on enjoying the parkland and easy circuits. Manly Beach is a great beachside location for riding with kids, hire a bike or join a tour and discover secluded coves and beaches on the 20km of dedicated bike paths and off road trails.

Parramatta also has an extensive network of dedicated bike paths passing through quiet streets and along the river. Cycle to Sydney Olympic Park where cycling is a popular family-friendly activity with 35km of cycle ways, bike hire and facilities open seven days a week. Young kids can safely ride the Children’s Loop in Bicentennial Park and most circuits are close to facilities such as playgrounds, picnic areas, bubblers and toilets.

ADVENTURE IN WESTERN SYDNEY

There's plenty of Summer fun for the family in Western Sydney with exciting attractions and plenty of things to see and do.

If you’re looking for something a little bit different, head to Sydney Olympic Park where a range of activities are designed just for kids. In Crack the Code, kids explore Newington Armory using a compass, at the end, it’s time to crack the secret code. Take a flying trapeze lesson, or join a park ranger as they unravel the intricate web of the wetlands.

TreeTop Adventure Park Sydney, located in Western Sydney Parklands, has flying fox courses and challenges for young kids, juniors and adults. Meet the Spring babies at nearby Calmsley Hill City Farm, or have an authentic sheep farm experience at Tobruk Sheep Station, with its sheep dogs, damper and billy tea. At Featherdale Wildlife Park, hand feed a kangaroo, wallaby or emu and enjoy a face-to-face encounter with a koala.

If you like an adrenalin rush then head to Penrith Whitewater Stadium for an action-packed introduction to whitewater rafting. You can also visit iFly Downunder, Australia’s only indoor skydiving facility, where anyone over three years of age can experience the rush as a massive wind generator lifts you effortlessly into flight.

FUN FOR FAMILY AND FRIENDS

There are three annual events in Sydney that should be on every kid’s must-do list!

The Sydney Opera House welcomes kids to its iconic theatres with Kids in the House, offering an exciting schedule of shows, performances and activities, the 2014-15 season promises to be great fun. In December, the Sydney Christmas program turns many parts of the city into a magical Christmas wonderland with five weeks of celebrations and concerts. In April 2015, the Sydney Royal Easter Show brings the country to the city for the ultimate fun-packed event for families, complete with rides, showbags and cuddly farm animals. As Australia’s largest annual event, this is definitely a family event everyone will enjoy!
TRENDING PRECINCTS

Each year, many Sydney precincts expand their culinary experiences. In Redfern, the multicultural influence is seen via Moon Park’s dazzling contemporary Korean, Kepos Street Kitchen’s brilliant Levantine spin on everything from breakfast eggs to dinner, and Arcadia Liquors brings a touch of hip Brooklyn-style to the beer and live music scene.

In nearby Chippendale, Brickfields has quickly become recognised as one of the trendy new bakeries in the city, and does amazing coffee and pastries. Check out Ester which has a 100% natural and biodynamic wine list.

The opening of a new boutique property on Broadway, slated to open in 2015, with top London chef Jason Atherton signed on to head one of its three restaurants, suggests things are just getting started in this neighbourhood. Here are just a few more suggestions...

- 100% Australian wine at Restaurant Nomad in Surry Hills
- Fish and chips at Fish Face in Double Bay
- Green papaya salad at Samosorn in Westfield Central Plaza
- Market-fresh cocktails at Bulletin Place Bar in city centre
- Oysters at The Boathouse at Blackwattle Bay, Glebe
- Salami, mozzarella & ricotta pizza at Da Mario in Rosebery
- Tel Aviv falafel at Kepos Street Kitchen, Redfern
- Wood-fired cooking at Ester in Chippendale
- Yum cha at Fisherman’s Wharf, Sydney Fish Market.

PERFECT PICNICS

Create your own delicious hamper from one of Sydney’s weekend produce markets, or grab some tasty fish and chips, before seeking out a picture-perfect spot.

- One of Sydney’s best-kept harbour secrets, Berry Island Reserve is a little bushland island linked to Wollstonecraft by a causeway
- Choose a peaceful, shady spot with views over the Hacking River at Audley Weir, the gateway to the Royal National Park
- Bradley’s Head is a bushland peninsula on the north shore with panoramic views of the harbour
- Take a dip in the sheltered waters of Parsley Bay Reserve, Vaucluse, a beautiful eastern suburbs harbour inlet, then set up your feast on the grass or adjacent picnic tables.
BREAKFAST AND BRUNCH

While café culture in Sydney has never been stronger, a handful of top restaurants are now joining the trend for fabulous breakfast and brunch menus.

The Yellow team in Potts Point love to be innovative, and their weekend brunch offer is no exception. The poached eggs come in an onion broth, and the lightly salted sweet-savoury liquorice bread is a must.

At Alpha in the city, weekday mornings mean ouzo-cured ocean trout on bagels, baked eggs with roasted peppers and rice puddings spiked with sour cherry preserve. At Balmain’s Efendy, Sunday’s breakfast menu comprises more than 30 types of Turkish breakfast delicacies. Meanwhile, Bill Granger continues to serve sunlit brunch favourites from the menu at Bill’s that started the trend years ago – ricotta hotcakes with banana and honeycomb butter, sweetcorn fritters and fresh fruit everywhere.

SUMMER BARS AND TRENDS

BASEMENT BARS

Many of Sydney’s new-wave bars keep their costs low and cool-factor high by taking over old back-alley and basement spaces. Some of the best include Shady Pines in Darlinghurst (country and western and peanuts), The Baxter Inn (blues, scotch and pretzels) and the Ramblin’ Rascal (bourbon, beer and corn nuts).

Tucked into a Kings Cross basement, the Old Growler has a welcoming vibe and great bar food. The coolest of them all is Frankie’s Pizza, a basement venue that’s crammed with rock ‘n’ roll, pizza, pinball, and an infamous craft beer menu.

ROOFTOP BARS

Rooftop bars in Summer are a Sydney experience simply not to be missed. It’s the perfect place to relax and enjoy a chilled beer, wine or cocktail in the sunshine. In the city centre, Ivy Pool Club leads the way with a cool pool and great vibes; The Rook in York Street is a firm favourite serving lobster, burgers and liquor.

Darlo Bar has an open-air terrace paradise to explore, while The Local Taphouse is a European-inspired tavern. Rooftop in Manly serves the best tap beer and ciders, enjoyed from the luxury of your Balinese day bed.

NATURAL WINES

Producing natural wines in an artisanal fashion, with minimal intervention on the part of the winemaker, is fast becoming a global trend. Wines created this way are organic, with a pure taste on the palate – and you’ll find many varieties on Sydney’s bar scene. Make a beeline for 121BC in Surry Hills, or the breezy balcony at wine bar 10 William Street in Paddington.

The Wine Library on Oxford Street is also popular, as is the tucked-away inner city bar Love, Tilly Devine, which enthusiasts seek out for the fun vibe and huge wine list.

BEACH & OUTDOORS

BIG BLUE PLAYGROUND

Surfing is part of Sydney’s soul, so head to the beach on your holiday. Try lessons at Bondi with Let’s Go Surfing, at Manly with Manly Surf School, or Freshwater Beach with Surf Skool.

For experienced board riders, Sydney’s world-famous breaks offer many challenges, from Maroubra and Cronulla in the south to Palm Beach, Newport and Dee Why in the north. Diving and snorkelling will bring you face-to-face with a captivating underwater world. Meet Clovelly Bay’s friendly blue groper or explore Manly’s Cabbage Tree Bay Aquatic Reserve, just off Shelly Beach.

Bare Island at La Perouse is also a popular dive and snorkel spot for all skill levels. Check out beaches accessible only by water in a kayak – you can learn or hire with Sydney Harbour Kayaks at Spit Bridge, or choose from one of the Natural Wanders harbour tours at Kayak Sydney, Milsons Point. Have fun on a stand-up paddle board at Rose Bay with Oz Stand Up Paddle or at Manly Stand Up Paddle School. Try a paddle board tour out of Mosman or Watsons Bay with Sydney Scenic SUP. Or for an extra adrenalin rush take a kiteboarding lesson at Botany Bay with Kiteboarding Lessons.

POOLS WITH VIEWS

From Cronulla to Palm Beach, Sydney’s coastline boasts a unique series of ocean pools carved out of cliffs and rocky headlands. A dip in these semi-natural wonders, surrounded by ocean and sky, is a swimming experience like no other.

A few of the most accessible include McIver’s Baths at Coogee, Australia’s last remaining women-only pool, Bondi Icebergs, where glam restaurants and beach life provide the backdrop and Manly’s pretty Fairy Bower pool. Sydney also has 40 harbour pools such as North Sydney Olympic Pool, right beneath the Harbour Bridge, Wooolloomooloo’s Andrew Boy Charlton and Watsons Bay Baths. Balmain’s Dawn Fraser Baths is the oldest pool and swimming club in Australia, it’s hard to beat a Summer splash in this glorious tidal harbour pool.

SYDNEY UNDER THE STARS

Take advantage of the warm weather and experience a unique night under the stars.

• Go glamping at Cockatoo Island, located in the heart of Sydney Harbour. Tents, beds and a cocktail bar are ready and waiting
• Hear the call of the wild from a safari tent in the middle of Australia’s most famous Zoo, with Taronga’s Roar and Snore
• Drop anchor in Sydney Harbour and spend the night aboard a luxury yacht or catamaran with a sail and stay package.

MOUNTAIN REGIONS

Regional NSW offers an inspiring list of experiences perfectly suited to a short break or easy getaway.

To explore the mountain regions, pack your walking boots, sunscreen and water bottle to experience two inspiring World Heritage Areas just a few hours’ drive from Sydney.

The spectacular sandstone cliffs and forested valleys of the Blue Mountains National Park have a network of well marked walking trails that criss cross the rugged terrain. Stop along the way to enjoy refreshing waterfalls, the birdlife and panoramic views as you take in the fresh mountain air. If you are after some pure indulgence, be sure to spend some time at the luxurious Emirates Wolgan Valley Resort & Spa – named Australia’s best hotel by TripAdvisor.

To the north of Sydney is Barrington Tops National Park, set among a series of extinct volcanoes and surrounded by valleys with subtropical rainforest and Antarctic beech forests. The best way to explore is definitely on foot.

FLYING SUMMER GETAWAYS

A world of fabulous short breaks in Regional NSW is just a short flight from Sydney and other capital cities.

Some of Summer’s most desirable destinations include the beautiful beaches of Byron Bay, just 70 minutes’ from Sydney by air. The outstanding natural beauty of World Heritage-listed Lord Howe Island is just two hours’ flying time from Sydney and Brisbane. It was recently voted Australia’s best holiday island by Australian Traveller. Meanwhile, the pristine beaches and relaxed lifestyle of the South Coast are accessible from airports at Moruya and Merimbula.
COASTAL GEMS

Make the most of a short break by exploring the fabulous stretch of coastline that’s within easy driving distance from Sydney.

The Central Coast is famous for its surf beaches, lakes and national parks. Located just one hour’s drive north of Sydney, the region’s laid-back atmosphere offers a number of great options for swimming, surfing or sailing. If you’re a surfer, head to McMasters Beach, Wamberal Beach, Bouddi National Park or Newcastle’s Merewether and Bar Beach which are known for consistent waves.

The 43km stretch of coastline between Seal Rocks and Forster is home to some of the most stunning and least-congested locations in NSW, with pretty Boomerang and Bluey’s Beaches well worth a detour.

An hour south of Sydney, the beaches around Wollongong offer ideal learn to surf conditions. North Wollongong is a family favourite with rock pools, shaded grass, picnic areas and kids’ playground. Further south, Kiama National Surfing Reserve is home to The Farm and Mystics beaches, regarded as two of the best surfing beaches on the South Coast.

COUNTRY CRUISIN’

Fine food, wine and indulgence go together in the Hunter Valley and the Southern Highlands, both easy getaways from Sydney that have a distinct country feel.

While the Hunter Valley is famous for its sublime wines with more than 120 top class wineries, vineyards and cellar doors – it’s also highly regarded for its beautiful restaurants and locally grown, quality produce. Add sumptuous spas, championship golf courses, art galleries and luxury retreats and you’ve got the perfect Summer break.

To Sydney’s south, the national parks of the Southern Highlands add a touch of wilderness to the otherwise gentile towns and villages such as Bowral, Berrima and Mittagong. Lovely gardens, fabulous food and wine, golf and antique shopping add the essential getaway ingredients.

ADVENTURE IDEAS

- Get your thrills in Wollongong, where you can go hang-gliding, paragliding, enjoy an aerobatic flight – or sky dive right onto the beach
- Find amazing rock-climbing, abseiling, and an intricate caving system to explore in the Blue Mountains
- Make tracks for the spectacular vantage points in Morton National Park, where the dirt trails are best experienced by mountain bike
- Take the family to TreeTop Adventure Park on the Central Coast, where kids aged three and over can travel the forest via flying fox
- Discover the trails and unspoilt wilderness of beautiful Glenworth Valley on horseback
- Get a bird’s eye view over the pristine beaches and hinterland of Newcastle while hang-gliding or paragliding.
THE CELLAR DOOR

With so much diversity within each wine region of NSW, the cellar door is often the best place to start exploring.

The combination of beautiful wines, great service and terrific locations makes any trip worthwhile. In the increasingly interesting Canberra Wine District, try Clonakilla in Murrumbateman which releases small, rare batches of wine, while Lark Hill Winery has an impressive cellar door with stunning views of the vineyards. Considered by some to be the most beautiful winery around Mudgee, Logan Wines at Apple Tree Flat has won awards for its cellar door experience. De Salis Wines in Orange offers tastings with a view from the verandah of an old apple-shed.

Another cellar door taking advantage of its fine setting is James Estate, nestled into a pocket of the Upper Hunter, surrounded by 200-plus acres of estate vineyards. In the lower Hunter, Tyrrell’s well-established cellar door is a short stroll to the historic 4 Acres Vineyard (planted 1879) and Johnno’s Vineyard (planted 1908).

SUMMER PRODUCE MARKETS

The NSW farmers’ market movement is thriving as many visitors seek the experience of shopping for fresh, local food in an authentic setting.

- Buy honey produced in the mountains, great pork from Trunkey Creek and farm made goats’ cheese at Blackheath Growers’ Market
- The twice-monthly Dubbo Farmers’ Market draws on farmers and shoppers from all over the Central West
- Newcastle City Farmers’ Market is a popular spot for people interested in fresh produce and gourmet delights
- The Mid North Coast has the Foreshore Market at Port Macquarie, Hastings Farmers Market at Wauchope and the Wingham Farmers’ Market
- Northern NSW has the Mullumbimby Farmers’ Market, Bangalow Farmers’ Market, Byron Farmers’ Market and New Brighton Farmers’ Market
- The SAGE Farmers’ Market at Moruya on the South Coast is a weekday afternoon market featuring goods grown or made within a 160km radius.

- The weekday Coffs Coast Growers’ Market in Coffs Harbour features local produce from seafood to bananas and macadamias
- The Bellingen Growers Market supports organic fresh food producers

GREAT EATS

Chefs across the State have redefined regional dining in recent years. Beautifully located restaurants, sustainable practices and a commitment to using fresh, local ingredients have produced standout dining options.

In Bowral, there’s James Vile’s Biota Dining, while in Newcastle, try Chris Mason’s Mason Restaurant or Beau Vincent’s Subo. In the Hunter Valley, Troy Rhoades-Brown’s Muse Restaurant and Muse Kitchen, and veteran Robert Molines’ Bistro Molines – make for memorable weekends away. Or visit Margan at Broke to see a sustainable kitchen in practice. In the beautiful setting of the Blue Mountains Botanic Garden at Mt Tomah, chef Sean Moran’s Tomah Gardens Restaurant, has a delicious flavour-driven menu.

On the North Coast, its best to book ahead to dine at the sublime Fins seafood restaurant from Steven Snow. At the fine diner, Town, in Bangalow, the talented Kanetani’s have created a very good reason for people to linger in this picturesque North Coast village.

To the south, experience Josh Tyler at Tyler’s Pantry in Mogo, and Huw and Angas Jones at Zanzibar Café, Merimbula. In Orange, Simonn Hawke at Lolli Redini remains the fine-dining priestess of the region, while Tony Worland’s Tonic, in the pretty village of Millthorpe, is just the place for a fine Sunday lunch.

THE GOOD OIL

Delicious extra-virgin olive oils are grown and pressed in many places in NSW. Try award-winning Alto Olive Oil, Crookwell; medal winner at the 2013 Olive Oil Competition in New York, Rylstone Olive Press, Rylstone, and Wollundry Grove, near Wagga Wagga.

BAKERIES ABOUND

Don’t miss Berry Sourdough Bakery which has an almost permanent queue. Baked Uprising in Newcastle does a fine line in tarts, Heathfire in Bellingen specialises in organic sourdough and pastries. Biscuits are a tempting sweet treat at Bertoldo’s Panetteria in Griffith.

FOOD EXPERIENCES

Pick your own fresh produce, join a food tour, sample gourmet cheeses at the dairy or stock up on out-of-season treats at produce stores this Summer.

- Pick your own...apples, peaches and nectarines in the Blue Mountains, walnuts and chestnuts at Mt Irvine and Mt Wilson, cherries in Young and berries in the Southern Highlands and South Coast
- Join a local food tour, a cooking class or farmgate trail in any number of towns from Byron Bay to Orange, Newcastle to Berry and Kangaroo Valley
- Taste glorious Hunter cheeses at Jannei Goat Cheese, the Smelly Cheese Shop, Binnorie Dairy and Hunter Valley Cheese Company
- Share the food passion of South Coast Providores in Berry, artisan producers who use sustainably-grown, seasonal and local produce
- A Slice of Orange and The Agrestic Grocer in Orange sell Fourjay Farm hazelnuts, Murrungundy Pistachios, Le Barre vinegar and Orange Mountain Wine verjus.

LAKE MACQUARIE INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN’S GAMES

It’s time for young athletes to shine as the 48th Summer International Children’s Games (ICG) kicks off for the first time ever in the southern hemisphere.

The ICG is a member of the International Olympic Committee (IOC) and the largest multi-sport youth games in the world, bringing together young people from around the globe and fostering a message of friendship and peace. Around 1,500 athletes aged between 12 and 15 years of age will represent 30 countries, with coaches, delegates and supporters expected to swell that figure to 3,000. Be there to cheer on the young sports stars competing on an international stage.

TAMWORTH COUNTRY MUSIC FESTIVAL

Experience one of Australia’s most iconic events when the biggest country music festival outside of Nashville kicks off in Tamworth in 2015.

Over 55,000 fans are expected during the ten-day extravaganza, which promises over 4,000 shows and 800 performers. Highlights include the Golden Guitar Awards and the Toyota Landcruiser Country Music Busking Championships, with 600 buskers performing on Tamworth’s ‘Boulevard of Dreams’ on Peel Street. Kasey Chambers and Keith Urban both started out here, so you may just spot the next big talent.

PARKES ELVIS FESTIVAL

Once a year, the population of Parkes swells to more than twice its size, as Elvis Presley fans flock in to celebrate The King’s birthday.

It’s been over 37 years since Elvis left the building, but the five-day festival’s been going strong since 1993 – and over 18,000 fans are tipped to take part in the 2015 celebrations of The King’s 80th birthday.

Be there to experience the festival’s carnival atmosphere, in particular the street parade – a procession of floats, Elvis and Priscilla lookalikes, marching bands, vintage cars and much more.

AUSTRALIAN BOWL-RIDING CHAMPIONSHIPS

‘No guts, no glory’ is possibly the best mantra for skateboarders competing in this year’s 4th Annual Australian Bowl-Riding Championships (ABC).

The event is taking place in one of the country’s most technical bowls – Bar Beach-Empire Skate Park in Newcastle. Famous for being the first truly national skater competition for Aussie skateboarders, the event features Australia’s best skaters competing for fame, cash and great prizes. With ABC’s four divisions – Under 18s, Women, Pro/AM Open and Masters 40+, competitors across the rider spread will get a crack at victory.

When: 5 – 8 February 2015
Where: Bar Beach, Newcastle
