Highlights

- Due to the combined impact of the Australian summer bushfires and the COVID-19 pandemic, all States and Territories posted declines in the domestic overnight market for the year.
- NSW continued its national leadership despite having the biggest absolute decline nationally in domestic overnight visitor nights.
- The fall in domestic overnight visitors to NSW was mainly due to the decline in Leisure visitors to regional NSW (down 6.5 million).
- Regional NSW experienced a bigger absolute decline in domestic visitors and nights for the year than Sydney (down 8 million and 21 million, respectively) while Sydney suffered a bigger drop in domestic overnight expenditure (down $6 billion).
